STIPULATION AND ORDER REGARDING THE PRODUCTION OF DELL TRANSACTIONAL DATA

WHEREAS, on June 11, 2009, plaintiffs in consolidated class actions (“Class Plaintiffs”) filed a motion to compel Dell Corporation (“Dell”) to complete its production of certain transactional data (D.I. 1895 in 05-MD-1717) in response to Class Plaintiffs’ June 22, 2006 subpoena and a March 9, 2009 agreement between Class Plaintiffs and Dell for the production of

Dell transactional data, including information contained in a March 10, 2009 e-mail between Class Plaintiffs and Dell (the "March 9 Agreement");

WHEREAS, Dell opposed Class Plaintiffs' motion to compel on the grounds, inter alia, that it had already produced sufficient transactional data pursuant to Class Plaintiffs' subpoena and the March 9 Agreement; and

WHEREAS, a hearing on Class Plaintiffs' motion to compel Dell was held before the Special Master on June 23, 2009, during which Class Plaintiffs and Dell agreed that Dell will produce certain additional transactional data for July 14, 2006 with the understanding that such additional production will resolve Class Plaintiffs' motion to compel and satisfy Dell's obligations to produce transactional data pursuant to Class Plaintiffs' subpoena and the March 9 Agreement;

NOW, THEREFORE, Class Plaintiffs and Dell hereby stipulate, through their respective counsel of record, subject to the approval of the Court, that:

1. On or before June 29, 2009, Dell shall produce to Class Plaintiffs its U.S. transactional sales data for all computers purchased from Dell containing x86 microprocessors with an invoice date of July 14, 2006. Dell shall produce the data in the same format and with the same data fields as the data production Class Plaintiffs received from Dell on April 28, 2009.
2. The production of the July 14, 2006 transactional data by Dell shall resolve Class Plaintiffs' motion to compel and satisfy Dell's obligations to produce transactional data pursuant to Class Plaintiffs' subpoena and the March 9 Agreement.
